

SUBCOMMITTEE: SUBCOMMITTEE #2

1 HOUSE BILL NO. 686
2 AMENDMENT IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE
3 (Proposed by the House Committee for Courts of Justice 4 on _____)
5 (Patron Prior to Substitute--Delegate Ransone)

6 A BILL to amend and reenact § 55-210.3:01 of the Code of Virginia, relating to the Uniform Disposition
7 of Unclaimed Property Act; bank deposits and funds in financial organizations; charges on inactive 8 accounts.

9 Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:

10 1. That § 55-210.3:01 of the Code of Virginia is amended and reenacted as follows:

11 § 55-210.3:01. Bank deposits and funds in financial organizations.

12 A. Any demand, savings, or matured time deposit with a banking or financial organization,
13 including deposits that are automatically renewable, and any funds paid toward the purchase of shares, a 14 mutual investment certificate, or any other interest in a banking or financial organization is presumed 15 abandoned unless the owner has, within five years:

16 1. In the case of a deposit or ownership of shares, increased or decreased the amount of the deposit 17 or the number of shares owned, or presented the passbook or other similar evidence of the deposit or 18 ownership of shares for the crediting of interest or dividends, or negotiated a check in payment of interest 19 or dividends on a time deposit or ownership of shares;

20 2. Communicated in writing with the banking or financial organization concerning the property;

21 3. Otherwise indicated an interest in the property as evidenced by a memorandum or other record 22 on file prepared by an employee of the banking or financial organization;

23 4. Owned other property to which subdivision A 1, ~~A~~ 2, or ~~A~~ 3 is applicable if the banking or 24 financial organization communicated in writing with the owner with regard to the property that would 25 otherwise be presumed abandoned under this paragraph at the address to which communications regarding 26 the other property regularly are sent;

27 5. Had another relationship with the banking or financial organization concerning which the owner 28 has (i) communicated in writing with the banking or financial organization, or (ii) otherwise indicated an 29 interest as evidenced by a memorandum or other record on file prepared by an employee of the banking 30 or financial organization if the banking or financial organization communicates in writing with the owner 31 with regard to the property that would otherwise be abandoned under this paragraph at the address to 32 which communications regarding the other relationship regularly are sent; or

33 6. A deposit made with or purchase of shares in a banking or financial organization by a court or 34 by a guardian pursuant to order of a court or by any other person for the benefit of a person who was an 35 infant at the time of the making of such deposit or purchase of shares, which deposit or ownership of 36 shares is subject to withdrawal or transfer only upon the further order of such court or such guardian or 37 other person, shall not be subject to the provisions of this chapter until one year after such infant attains
38 the age of eighteen years or until one year after the death of such infant, whichever occurs sooner. These 39 accounts are not subject to dormant service charges.

40 B. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, share accounts of a member of a state or 41 federally chartered credit union that is subject to or covered by life savings insurance provided by the 42 credit union at no additional charge to the member shall be presumed abandoned five years after the date
43 of the second mailing of a statement of account or other notification or communication that was returned 44 as undeliverable, or after the date the credit union discontinued the mailings to the member, whichever is 45 earlier. Funds held or owing under the life savings insurance policy are presumed abandoned pursuant to 46 § 55-210.4:01.

47 C. For purposes of this section, "property" includes any interest or dividends thereon. No banking 48 or financial organization may deduct any service charge or cease to accrue interest on any account, from 49 the date the account is declared dormant or inactive by such organization except in conformity with 50 cessation of interest or service charges generally assessed upon active accounts and except as provided in
51 this section. With respect to any property described in this section, a holder may not impose any charges
52 due to dormancy or inactivity which differ from ~~those~~ charges imposed on active accounts or cease to pay

53 interest due to dormancy or inactivity that differs from the cessation of payment of interest on active 54 accounts unless:

55 1. There is an enforceable contract between the holder and the owner of the property pursuant to 56 which the holder may impose those charges or cease payment of interest;

57 2. For property in excess of $100, the holder, no more than three months prior to the initial 58 imposition of those charges or cessation of interest, has given written notice to the owner of the amount 59 of those charges at the last known address of the owner stating that those charges will be imposed or that 60 interest will cease; however, such notice need not be given with respect to charges imposed or interest
61 ceased before July 1, 1984; and

62 3. When the holder imposes those charges or ceases payment of interest due to dormancy or 63 inactivity, it does not ~~for any reason other than to correct a documented internal error~~ reverse or cancel
64 those charges or retroactively credit interest with respect to such property unless (i) it does so for all
65 customers that request a reversal or cancellation of dormancy or inactivity charges or a retroactive credit
66 of interest, including those customers subject to § 55-210.12, or (ii) it does so to correct a documented
67 internal error. Notwithstanding any provision of this subsection to the contrary, a holder that is a state-
68 chartered credit union may refund charges or reverse or cancel those charges or retroactively credit interest 69 with respect to such property to the same extent that a federally-chartered credit union is authorized so to 70 do pursuant to applicable provisions of federal law.

71 D. Any automatically renewable property to which this section applies is matured upon the 72 expiration of its initial time period. However, in the case of any renewal to which the owner consents at 73 or about the time of renewal by communicating in writing with the banking or financial organization or 74 otherwise indicates consent as specified in subsection A of this section, the property is matured upon the 75 expiration of the last time period for which consent was given. If, at the time provided for delivery in 76 subsection D of § 55-210.12, a penalty or forfeiture in the payment of interest would result from the 77 delivery of the property, the time for delivery is extended until the time when no penalty or forfeiture
78 would result. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section to the contrary, any automatically 79 renewable time deposit that has matured shall be presumed abandoned five years after the date of the

80 second mailing of a statement of account or other notification or communication that was returned as 81 undeliverable, or after the date the holder discontinued the mailings to the apparent owner, whichever is 82 earlier. However, any automatically renewable time deposit for which no such statement or other 83 notification or mailing is required to be sent by the banking or financial organization shall be presumed 84 abandoned as otherwise provided in this section.

85 #