insert

Any person that sells, resells, or facilitates the sale or resale of a ticket to an event, as that term is defined in § 59.1-466.5, shall clearly and conspicuously display the total cost of the ticket, including all ancillary fees or surcharges that are required to be paid in order to purchase the ticket, from the first time a price is displayed and any time thereafter. The total cost of the ticket shall not increase from the first time a price is displayed, excluding the addition of reasonable postage or carrier charges incurred to ship non-electronic tickets based on the location or delivery method selected by the purchaser, which shall be disclosed and added to the total ticket cost prior to purchase. The purchaser shall be provided an option to view an itemized list of the base price of the ticket and each ancillary fee or surcharge prior to purchase.
